Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center dedicated

By ALMA HENRY

BELLE GLADE — The Dedication of the Palm Beach Junior College Glades Cultural Arts Center was filled with emotion as College President Edward Eisey and Board Chairman Dr. Philip Lichtblau dedicated the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Saturday night.

Mrs. Homer Hand, the vice-chairman of the college's board of trustees was overcome with emotion upon arriving at the center.

Mrs. Hand, who gave the history of the Cultural Arts Center said she did not know until driving up to the center that it would be known as the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

"I want you to know that I don't feel I deserve this honor. Also I want you to know I never felt more honored or grateful in my life," she said.

Mrs. Hand, who has served as chairman of the Board of Trustee and first Black Gold Jubilee celebration in Belle Glade could not hold back the tears as Dr. Eisey made the announcement.

The audience of more than 300 invited guests gave Mrs. Hand a standing ovation.

The Palm Beach Junior College Concert Choir under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Adams Johnson and the orchestra directed by James Gross, presented a special rendition of "Hello Dolly" during the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Again Mrs. Hand was overcome with emotion and found herself being embraced by Dr. Eisey and Dr. Lichtblau.

Mrs. Hand said the dedication of the 500-seat auditorium represented years of hard work and struggle by many people to construct the center in the Glades.

The original concept called for the center to built for $300,000. The cultural arts was constructed at a cost over $2 million.

Mrs. Hand said she learned a lesson in economics and politics during the construction of the auditorium.

She said plans for the auditorium were discussed a couple of years before the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida made a $78,000 donation in 1974 to purchase land for the building.

After U.S. Sugar Corp. swapped land with the state for the eventual site, the local sugar cooperative still let the college keep the money.

Mrs. Hand said the College knew about a state matching fund grant and set out to secure local funds to get state match.

"How easy it all seemed," she said. "We went to the County Commissioners and they generously made a donation," she said.

However in 1977 the trustees realized the original estimation was too low and $500,000 would be needed.

The first estimation of $900,000 came from architects Marion, Paluga and Associates.

Three years later when the construction was

Ground Zero activities set

BELLE GLADE — A seminar at Palm Beach Junior College - Glades is the only scheduled activity for Ground Zero Week, according to Charles Farrar, a spokesman for the local Ground Zero organization.

The seminar will be held tonight in the college's assembly room starting at 8 p.m.

The featured speaker will be Richard Yinger, a social sciences professor at the PBJC main campus. A film, "The Last Epidemic: Medical Consequences of Nuclear War," will also be shown.

Today has been proclaimed "Ground Zero Day" in Belle Glade by Mayor Thomas L. Altman.

The city is participating with over 300 communities in the United States and Canada in observing Ground Zero and Week.

Ground Zero's purpose is to educate the public about the chances for and effects of a nuclear war, not to take sides for or against nuclear arms and disarmament, said Farrar.

Ground Zero is a national organization founded by Roger Molander who served as a nuclear strategy specialist on the National Security Council under Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter.

Gov. Graham visits Belle Glade

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE — Florida Governor Bob Graham toured the Glades area Thursday, April 15, and had a luncheon-meeting with local government and business leaders.

Earlier in the day, Graham had attended a meeting of the South Florida Water Management District Board. Afterward, he flew to the Glades, flying over the Wildlife Conservation District en route.

In the Glades, he was given a tour of the area before arriving at the Florida Sugar Cooperative Sugarhouse for lunch.

In attendance at the lunch were Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman, Pahokee Duncan Padgett and South Bay Mayor Don Tanner. Jack Maloy, director of SFWMD was also in attendance.

Graham told the group of about 75 that South Florida was just getting over a 200 year period of low water input into Lake Okeechobee. The area successfully met the challenge through a relationship between government and business. Maloy said he agreed that cooperation between the different sectors helped pull the area through drought.

"We could have had one hell of a range war here between the sugar and the vegetable and cattle interests," he said. "But we didn't. It's not to you that the reason we came through process is because we worked together."

He added that the end of the drought is near time to sit back and rest.

"I'm between jobs," he said. "I'm waiting for the flood."

Maloy was given a plaque for his role in the drought by the Florida Sugar Cane Le

"I think what this says is that you go and you won," said League President Vandegrift as he presented the plaque to Maloy.

Maloy's policies often brewed contention among the different sectors of the agricultural populations.

Drug arrest made in Pahokee

PAHOKEE — A Police Chief Carmen Pahokee resident was arrested Monday morning and charged with Salvatore Henry possession of over 20 grams of marijuanna and hashish, according to police reports.

According to Henry, he observed him move a box containing the marijuanna and hashish from his apartment.

The police had been informed by anonymous informant that Barton possessed contraband had been observed dwelling, accord

Club lease appears set

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE — The lease to the Lakeside Country Club and Restaurant will probably be officially granted to the Elden Corporation out of Lake Worth at the city commission meeting Monday, April 26.

The company's proposal was one of five the city commissioners discussed at a workshop session Monday, April 19.

Elden Corporation proposed to pay the city $21,600 in $900 monthly installments over a two year period.

Elden is owned by David Haneberg.

His company's proposal outbid four locally based individuals and companies.

Theo's Inc., owned by Ray Hatton and Jack Jones, was the second highest bidder with a $18,000 offer for a two year lease.

Other bids included $13,200 for two years from Louis and Edith Kirchman; $12,000 from Audrey C. Pierce and $7,800 from Charles F. Ward and Tommy Lassiter.

Included in each proposal was a description of what type of establishment the bidder intended to operate if the lease was awarded to him.

Haneberg said he would tailor the club to the community and it's diverse.

"You know the food business is basically a service oriented operation," he said. "You have to cater to the people that come in. If you don't, you might as well close up."

He told the commissioners that his tentative plans include entertainment, possibly two nights a week and of a type the community prefers.

He also said he would open earlier to serve breakfast to early risers if the need was there.

The club would not try to compete against the Holiday Inn by offering the same type of entertainment and atmosphere, he said. He also told

"I feel like we should consider the highest bidder since we put it out to bids," said Commissioner Charles Goodlett.

Local contractor Wallace Lutz was awarded the building of the center with a low bid of $1.59 million.

Mrs. Hand said Dr. Eiseley and the trustees wondered where the money was going to come from.

When the project looked as though it was doomed, Mrs. Hand said she saw Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, who asked how the money was coming along.

Mrs. Hand said she told Mrs. Wedgworth of the financial problems and was told by Mrs. Wedgworth, she would call her in a few days on the matter.

"Sure enough within the week, Mrs. Wedgworth called and said Wedgworth Farms would donate $50,000 to the project," said Mrs. Hand.

"After that donation, things got going again. The U.S. Sugar Corporation donated $25,000 and the county commission with the help of Commissioner Bill Bailey made its second donation of $200,000," Mrs. Hand said.

"At every step of the way, we found the people of the Glades willing to open their hearts and their pocketbooks. Together we have done a great thing for the community," Mrs. Hand said.

Neat the completion of the center, community groups also donated funds to help with the landscaping, the parking lot cost and equipment for the auditorium.

On hand for the dedication of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center included Trustees, Mrs. Hisetta S. Dyson, Willard Findling and George A. Michael.

Also attending the dedication were County Commissioners Norman Gregory, Frank Foster and Bill Bailey, Mayor and Mrs. Tom Altman of Belle Glade, Mayor Duncan Padgett, state representatives and their aides.

Dr. Cecil Conley, Provost P.B.J.C. Glades and Mrs. Conley were unable to attend the dedication. Following the ribbon cutting ceremony, the Palm Beach Junior College Music Department presented "An Evening On Broadway" with songs from "The Music Man," "Kismet," "Most Happy Fella," and "Victor Herbert."

Opinion

Candidates out in force

This is definitely an election year. In the past several weeks, the Glades have played host to a wide range of candidates for county and state office.

Among the many guests we've had the privilege of seeing come to the area are Governor Bob Graham, who's running for re-election; Skip Batalis, an opponent of Graham's; Bill McCollum, a United States Congressman from the Orlando area, Norman Gregory who's running for county commission, and Maicom T. Bird, who's looking to take Gregory's seat away from him.

We're all quite flattered that these people are taking the time to come out and talk to us. Really.

Our only concern is: why do most elected officials tend to listen to the concerns of Glades residents during election years? Most other years, they don't come out here. Even when they're in the area, they usually stick to the coast.

Could it be the poor excuses for roads leading into the area that keeps them away? If it is, well, they could do something about that.

Do they think we don't have problems any other years? We tend to doubt that. Maybe it's because during off-election years, they just don't need us.

That could be unfortunate, because we do need them. Every year.

We appreciate their efforts to hear us, no matter when that opportunity arises. Our only complaint is that they don't come by more often.

Come back real soon, hear?

Confidence

We, my family and I, proved that it could be done last week. We achieved what can be described as a near perfect vacation, though some might think we were a little crazy for doing what we did.

During the Easter school break, we piled into our 12 year old Olds which had seen 100,000 miles some 10,000 miles ago and set out for Augusta, Washington, Baltimore, and New York.

They don't make cars like that anymore. It more than proved that it was a match against Yankee cars on their home streets and made it home without a whimper. That's what I call confidence.

Even more significant, my wife was satisfied with my driving. I.e. there was little coaching from the passenger side, and the kids were more interested in the scenery than in sparing with each other.

The secret to the success of this trip was that we were able to stay with friends in every city we stopped off at, rather than staying in some sterile motel room. It makes a big difference, both in human contact and in conserving the pocket book.

We took in all of the standard tourist attractions, including the Empire State Building and Macy's in New York, the harbor in Baltimore, the Smithsonian, etc. in Washington.

For me, however, the highlight was Arlington Cemetery.

I was tremendously impressed by the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and the flame burning at the grave of John F. Kennedy. The charisma of the slain president is such that some people were seen sitting down nearby and weeping.

And then all of those tombstones, row after row, and more being added every day. Some of those buried there are famous and many simply say "Unknown."

Though there was a lot of driving, it was relaxing in its own way, and completely free of the hustle bustle of getting together the week's news here in the Glades.

We enjoyed the trip and I thank my co-workers here at the office who pitched in and shouldered the load while I was away. You did a great job!

I wouldn't recommend, however, that anyone attempt the trip that we did under equivalent circumstances, unless they have lots of confidence in their ability to get from here to there and back.

EDITOR:

President Reagan said in his State of the Union address on January 26 that the cause of our current problem is the inheritance of decades of tax and tax spend and spend attitudes and practices.

The wasteful spending has been caused by the obsession of the welfare state concept. The President noted that hundreds of billions are flowing from official coffers to finance food stamp, health and other social entitlement programs.

Informed persons realize that all kinds of liberals advocate the redistribution of income. Millions of self-reliant persons with very limited incomes have obtained education.

The Belle Glade Hospital Board answered a list of questions, concerning the proposed consolidated hospital between Belle Glade and Pahokee, put to the board by the local chamber of commerce.

The board said the only site being considered was located within a half mile radius of the midpoint between the city limits on SR 715.

The proposed hospital was to be built for no more than $2 million and would have 100 beds compared to the 45 in the existing Belle Glade hospital and 46 in Pahokee.

The hospital was expected to provide training for nurses and interns and was expected to be more economical than two units, attract more doctors and provide better medical services.

The existing Belle Glade hospital, if the new one were built, would be operated as a hospital until 1968 and it was "assumed" the Pahokee hospital would be taken over and the indebtedness assumed.

The Belle Glade Hospital Board said it would be willing to allow an outside person determine, by means of population growth, where the proposed hospital should be built but the Pahokee Hospital Board would not, according to the Belle Glade board.

The telephone systems in Belle Glade and Pahokee were changed to incorporate seven digit numbers for telephones in the western part of the country.

Southern Bell Telephone Manager Bob Lee said the new numbering was important to keep pace with the "tremendous growth of Florida".

The association was formed to bring about action and developments beneficial to the community, specifically a local port and docking facilities on the inland waterway and the extension of Avenue A to Chosen Road (now SR 715).

(The extension still hasn't been constructed.)

Other officers elected during the association's first meeting included Vice President Junius Harris and William Young, Kenneth Lute and Al Multz, all elected to the board of directors.

Palm Beach Port Authority officials met with a local group of residents and promised $40,000 in aid to a local proposed local port on Torry Island.

Arrangements were completed to register all men between the ages of 45 and 64 for the draft. The men were to be registered at local schools by public school teachers.

The local draft board had also been changed with the election of John Harris, a local lumberman, as chairman and George Mead of Pahokee as board member to replace Lou Betzner and John Dulaney.

Betzner and Dulaney had resigned earlier at the suggestion of state officials who said men eligible for the draft shouldn't hold positions on the board.

Wholesalers, retailers and other businesses registered for sugar rationing.

Approximately 320 businesses that fell into the various categories were estimated to be in the area.

Volunteers were being sought by Belle Glade Defense Council Commander Pop Lord for a variety of positions in the local organization.

The positions Lord said he was trying to fill included bomb squads, decontamination squads, rescue squads, air raid wardens, auxiliary firefighters and firemen.

A probable profit of $4 million was being held out to area farmers, formed into a committee headed by Ruth Wedgworth for growing crops which could be used in making synthetic rubber.

Of the 100,000 acres in the Glades to be utilized in the project, 30,000 were to go into sugar cane, 30,000 to sweet potatoes and 40,000 to peanuts.

50 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
APRIL 22, 1932

Area farmers were being invited to attend a special meeting at the Everglades Experiment Station to acquaint them with work being done there.

Dr. R.V. Allison, the station's soils specialist in charge, invited the local growers to see what was being done in experiments with manganese sulfate, especially in the failure (yellowing) of sweet potato vines being grown here.

The experiments had been carried out at the station since 1927 and a number of tests were then being carried out with the crop, particularly involving methods of application of the mineral.

In view of a shortage of taxpaid funds to fight muckland fires, a voluntary organization was formed in May, 1931, known as the Fire Protection Association.

The Fire Protection and Control Association was organized with Lloyd Farman as manager, I.E. Scott as assistant manager and J.M. Couse as secretary and treasurer.

Former Mayor H.G. Gates was one of the principal organizers.

A bathing beauty contest and baby show was to be among the features of the Everglades Bean Festival slated to be held in Pahokee May 8-15.

Farm worker program successful

An innovative training program is working well for growers and their employees in the Glades.

Truck and tractor driving and repair, fork lift operation, CPR, security enforcement and telephone etiquette — those are some of the varied skills farm workers in the South Bay-Belle Glade area are brushing up on, thanks to their grower employers.

Jerry Gunnire of South Bay Growers, Inc., is Chairman of the committee responsible for supervision of the training program, the Farm Crafts Advisory Council. According to Gunnire, not only the farm worker, but also the grower benefits from this educational program, as skills of the employees are upgraded.

The short course training sessions are designed specifically to upgrade skills of workers within their present assignments. Tuition is free.

The evening classes which last anywhere from 12 to 30 hours total are taught primarily at West Tech, the Belle Glade vocation-technical school, although some are held at Palm Beach Junior College-Glades Center, and occasionally classes are taught in the field.

Curriculum is set up by the Farm Crafts Advisory Council which meets monthly to stay in close touch with the program.

Working very closely with the group is Willie C. Poole, an extension agent of the Florida Cooperative Extension Service, University of Florida-IFAS, who acts as coordinator between the growers and the schools in setting up courses and keeping the program running smoothly. "What we offer is dictated by what the farmers want," stated Poole. "Safety is one of our primary objectives." She is extremely pleased with the response from the employer-sponsors and the instructors involved, as well as the students.

Mrs. Dorothy G. Oliver of Belle Glade will one of many blacks in Palm Beach County recognized for their contributions to the history of Palm Beach County.

KEEPING THE FAITH

"When they had finished eating, Jesus said to Simon Peter, 'Simon, son of John, do you truly love Me more than these?' John 21:14 NIV

That is a question every Christian has to answer some time or another. For Peter the question came after the resurrection. Peter had already seen Jesus at least on three occasions before this early morning visit on the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

On this particular morning, Peter and several other disciples had been out fishing. In fact, they had pushed their fishing boat in the water the night before, so all night long they had cast out their nets and had pulled them in empty until early morning. Early that morning, Jesus had come along the shore line and had suggested the place where they would catch fish and they did. It was then that John one of the disciples had recognized who this stranger with such good advice was.

But now they were on shore and all had eaten a hearty breakfast that the Lord Jesus Christ had prepared for them. They who doubt were sitting around the fire when Jesus turned to Peter and asked him the question of our text, "Simon, son of John, do you truly love me more than these?" What are "these" that Jesus was referring to? Well, we can't be sure. He might have been referring to the poor people that Peter had once given up to follow the Master. It might have been to the familiar surroundings of home or the seashore he spent his life on, or it may have meant the other disciples. Some of whom he had known and worked with since he was a small boy. I believe Jesus was including everything his work, surroundings and his friends in that word "these". "Do you love me more than these?" How much do we love God? Jesus made it very clear that my real commitment we have to Him has to be on the basis of love. "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and all your mind." This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like it: "Love your neighbor as yourself." (Matt. 22:37-39NIV)

The very first commandment of us who profess to follow Jesus Christ is to love Him without whole being. This love means we love His will for our lives. It means we obey His direction for us because we love His way, doing what He wants us to do, more than doing things our way. This love means He and His will come first in our lives. Whatever the situation may be that we are facing, this commandment is like it: "Love your neighbor as yourself." It is a commitment with a security, the security of a eternal relationship. Just how many friends do most of us have that will continue to be with us in any situation we could find ourselves in?

Over the years I have seen friends desert each other pretty trivial things. When trouble comes, when popularity is reversed, fair weather friends become distant. But, Jesus Christ is not a fair weather friend. Even though Peter denied Him, Jesus came back to Him. Peter eventually had to give up life for the Lord, but he was never alone. Peter had an eternal destination.

Jesus is asking each of us, "Do you truly love Me more than these?"

Gators set for tourney

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Glades Day softball team, seeded number one in the district tournament this year, was optimistic going into the competition Wednesday, April 21, according to Coach Mandy Perez.

"I don't see who can beat us," he said. "None of the teams have the athletes we have."

The Gators were given a bye Tuesday and were scheduled Wednesday to play the winner of the Palm Cove and Belle Glade Christian game.

Marylynn Thompson, the Gators' only senior pitcher, only started in the season with Lucy Blanchard was injured, is expected to start for the team.

Thompson's 10-4 record includes two one-hitters. Last week she picked up a win and a loss. Kings Academy lost to the Gators 19-4 in six innings last Tuesday.

Kelly Teets and Lauralee Green led the Gator offensive drive which capitalized on 20 hits and 10 errors.

In four trips to the plate, Teets connected four times, including once for a homerun, her fourth of the year. She scored five times and batted in four runs.

Green scored twice and gathered three hits in four official at bats, including her second homer of the year, a triple. She batted in six runs.

Angie Adams went four for five, scoring five runs and batting in three. Three of her four hits were doubles.

Tammy Scruggs, who went two for five, batted in three and scored four runs.

The victory upped the Gator's 1A record to 12-0 in the district.

The Gators' last game of the season saw them lose to 2A Okeechobee 7-6. Okeechobee hit off the Gators 16-12 but also committed more errors: five to the Gators one.

Shelia Lashley went two for four at bats and scored twice.

Tees, who went one for two, batted in two runs on a long fly which scored Angie Adams who was perched at second.

"It was the longest sacrifice I ever saw," said Perez.

The Gators ended their season at 13-5 overall. Teets led the team during the season with a .566 batting average, four homerauns and 27 RBIs.

Melanie Swager hit .526 and batted in 22 runs. Adams swung at a .500 clip and drove in 23.

Tammy Scruggs and Jamie Willis each batted .435. Scruggs batted in 14 and hit one homer.

Green batted .424 and batted 26 runs, collecting two homers along the way.

Lashley hit .361 and batted in 14.

Cheryl Hooker batted .314.

Overall, the team batted .388 while opposing teams hit .231 against them. They scored 198 runs and gave up only 81.

They collected 80 walks off of opposing pitchers, giving up only 59.

They committed 70 errors and saw their opponents commit 93.

The district games start at 3 p.m. at John Prince Park in Lake Worth.
